Dear children (and parents too),

A quick hello to you all before you start the wonderful Easter weekend. No newsletter this week as it's the holidays. Just a quick hello.

I know many of you were pleased to hear that the Easter Bunny and Tooth fairy have both been identified as key workers. Do be aware that they are busy like everyone else so there may be a delay in them getting to you.

As I look at my garden today it's a beautiful spring day. If you have the opportunity when you are out and about with your families to take time to look at some of the lovely new growth you see around you. Sometimes you can just see little peeps of the blossom but will be on the trees fully in the next weeks or so. I often stop and pause and say a quick thank you at those moments.

I've been busying myself for the past few days looking properly at all the pictures you've been sending in to our wonderful displays of rainbows, animals and for this week it's been Easter work. Do please keep on emailing them into the school@ email. They will appear as soon as we can get them up if send them in.

I'll send you details next week of the virtual choir that we will be holding and how you and your family can login. Until then keep rehearsing the songs.

Do you remember take a break with your family this weekend . Play games and be kind. On the website there are some really good examples of treasure hunt that you could be doing around the house just remember to return the items afterwards to where you found them. You could have a joke telling competition, don't forget to send them on to us so we can publish your best ones online. But the most important thing is to be kind to each other and follow the rainbow promise.

I hope you've been taking part in clap for our carers on a Thursday night. Where I live the whole road comes out at 8pm and bangs pots and pans very very loudly. Someone last week introduced a whistle and I'm going to go and find my recorder for this week! We all yell and whoop and then someone eventually yells 'see you next week!'

I thought it'd be fitting to leave you with a brilliant poem by one of my favourite poets ever! Our NHS' by the wonderful Michael Rosen who has just been taken out of ICU and is now recovering from coronavirus. It seems apt to post it the day after World Health Day.

These are the hands
That touch us first
Feel your head
Find the pulse
And make your bed.

These are the hands
That tap your back
Test the skin
Hold your arm
Wheel the bin

Change the bulb
Fix the drip
Pour the jug
Replace your hip.
These are the hands

That fill the bath

Mop the floor

Flick the switch

Soothe the sore

Burn the swabs

Give us a jab

Throw out sharps

Design the lab.

And these are the hands

That stop the leaks

Empty the pan

Wipe the pipes

Carry the can

Clamp the veins

Make the cast

Log the dose

And touch us last.

Stay safe and stay well in your family teams.

Take care and know that you are loved,

Mrs Savage & your family at Jennett's Park
